4-H Community Readiness Inventory Checklist

This checklist (next page) is for you to use when talking to people in your community about emergency preparedness resources. By interviewing emergency response agencies, such as fire, police, search and rescue, and medical responders, you can identify existing resources and determine resources your community needs. Completing the checklist is not required in order to be a part of a 4-H Technology Team. If you choose to complete it, please do not put any identifying information on the copy you submit to the University of Nevada Cooperative Extension. You may choose to personalize the copy that you keep by listing who you have interviewed. Once completed, please: 1) make one copy of the completed checklist for each agency interviewed, 2) summarize the results and create one checklist for your entire community, 3) share the final checklist with your community's emergency management team, and 4) provide a copy (without identifying information) to the authors of the checklist. The authors are very interested in the type of emergency preparedness resources being used and the level at which they are used. By completing the checklist and returning it, you will help us determine the types of resources and how they are utilized.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact any of us. Thank you.
